

NCS Electrical Systems Environmental Policy

As an Electrical contracting company we have a limited manufacturing process and we don't deal directly with hazardous substances. However we are responsive to current concerns regarding the environment and are aware that as time progresses these issues will become increasingly important. As a company we are pledged to

- Keep ourselves informed and comply with current legislation on environmental matters
- Keep employees informed of company policies and any specific requirements or items of concern
- Be responsible for our waste management with particular emphasis on the safe disposal of hazardous materials e.g. lamps
- Make efforts to reuse materials before disposing or recycling
- Use recycled and environmentally friendly products so far is practicable
- Minimise the effects of polluting substances
- Make consumers aware of light pollution and energy saving alternative products
- Conserve energy within our premises and vehicles
- Continue to improve our understanding of environmental matters in all areas of our business to ensure our continuous improvement in this area
